Fair Housing Training Available for Condo Associations

To educate condo associations on fair housing laws, the Seattle Office for Civil Rights has designed a custom-made training for condo boards. This free training covers typical scenarios faced by condo associations, the rights of condo owners, and situations that are best handled by a professional management company.

For more information on free trainings and other Seattle fair housing questions, call the Seattle Office for Civil Rights at 206-684-4500 or find SOCR on the web at www.seattle.gov/civilrights.
