

BOOKS

Autism's False Prophets

By Paul A. Offit, MD, Columbia University Press, 2008

In this book, Offit recounts the history of autism research. He considers the manipulation of science in the popular media and the courtroom, and he explores purported autism causes and cures. Visit <http://cup.columbia.edu>

Baby 411, 4th edition

By Ari Brown, MD and Denise Fields, Windsor Peak Press, 2010

The ultimate compilation of frequently asked questions for baby's first year, including a special section on vaccines.

Visit www.windsorpeak.com/baby411

Plain Talk About Childhood Immunization, 6th edition
Washington State Department of Health, 2008

Provides answers to some of the most frequently asked questions about immunizations. Visit www.kingcounty.gov/health/immunization for ordering information.

CD

Immunization Works, 2010

This CD includes the "Pink Book," ACIP recommendations, MMWRs, VISs, articles on vaccine safety and more. Order online from the CDC at https://www2a.cdc.gov/nchstp_od/PIWeb/niporderform.asp

PHONE

Public Health—Seattle & King County Immunization Program

206-296-4774

An immunization nurse is available Monday through Friday between 8am and 5pm to answer vaccine questions from the public and health care providers. Email your questions to vaccineinfo@kingcounty.gov. Visit our website: www.kingcounty.gov/health/immunization. Also, contact the King County Vaccines For Children program at this number.

CDC-INFO Contact Center

800-CDC-INFO (800-232-4636)

TTY: 888-232-6348

Toll-free numbers for consumers and health care professionals who have questions about immunizations and vaccine-preventable diseases. The center operates 24/7.

This resource list is adapted from the Immunization Action Coalition's publication, "Reliable Sources of Immunization Information: Where to go to find answers!" available online at <http://www.immunize.org/catg.d/p4012.pdf>

Public Health
Seattle & King County

Communicable Disease Epidemiology and Immunization Section
401 5th Avenue, Suite 900
Seattle, WA 98104

Phone: 206-296-4774
Fax: 206-296-4803

Rev. 10/10

Available in alternate formats

Public Health
Seattle & King County

Immunization Resources Providers Shouldn't Be Without

Where to look for reliable answers to your vaccine questions

Immunization Program: 206-296-4774

www.kingcounty.gov/health/immunization

Reliable immunization information online, in print, and over the phone...

WEBSITES

American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP)

www.aap.org/immunization

The Childhood Immunization Support Program website contains information for both parents and clinicians.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

www.cdc.gov/vaccines

Content on this website ranges from information for the general public about vaccines to official recommendations for health care professionals.

Immunization Action Coalition (IAC)

www.immunize.org

This website offers educational materials, photos, and video clips for health care professionals, parents, the media, and the general public.

www.immunize.org/vis

Current Vaccine Information Statements (VISs) are available to download and print in English and over 35 other languages.

National Network for Immunization Information (NNii)

www.immunizationinfo.org

NNii provides current, science-based information to health care professionals, the media, policy makers, and the public.

Self Study Programs Online

www.cdc.gov/vaccines/ed/courses.htm

The CDC offers several vaccine-related self study modules for providers. The web-based format allows you to access the courses from any computer with an internet connection as well as the ability to stop and start a module at your convenience.

Vaccine Education Center (VEC)

www.vaccine.chop.edu

The goal of the VEC at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is to accurately communicate the facts about each childhood vaccine.

Washington State Department of Health (DOH)

www.doh.wa.gov/cfh/Immunize/default.htm

Washington State's Immunization Program CHILD Profile provides information specific to schools, parents, and health care providers. Information on ordering free immunization materials can be found at <http://www.doh.wa.gov/cfh/Immunize/vaccine/order-materials.htm>

BOOKS

Epidemiology & Prevention of Vaccine-Preventable Diseases, 11th edition

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, May 2009

CDC's "Pink Book" provides detailed information about vaccines and the diseases they prevent. Also available online at <http://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/pubs/pinkbook/default.htm>.

Pre-order the 12th edition here: http://bookstore.phf.org/product_info.php?products_id=673

Red Book, 28th edition

American Academy of Pediatrics, 2009

This book for clinicians provides a summary of AAP recommendations concerning infectious diseases in and immunizations for infants, children, and adolescents. You can find the "Red Book" online at <http://aapredbook.aappublications.org>

Do Vaccines Cause That?! A Guide for Evaluating Vaccine Safety, 1st edition

By Martin Myers, MD and Diego Pineda, MS, Immunization for Public Health, 2008

Straight, science-based answers to parents' questions about vaccines. Visit www.dovaccinescausethat.com