4 "PREAMBLE:

5 King County is the economic engine of Washington state, generating $72 6 billion in annual economic activity -- as much as the other 38 counties 7 combined. Yet the existing revenue structure, particularly statutorily 8 capped taxes, has resulted in revenue not keeping up with increased 9 service demands from population growth. Because of this, King County's 10 general fund, which supports services such as the courts, prosecutor, jail 11 and sheriff, continues to face significant service cuts. At particular risk 12 are some of the county's roads that could be turned to gravel and bridges 13 that face closure. And countywide, Metro riders will see a 17 percent cut 14 in their bus service if new funding is not secured. 15 To help address these challenges, significant strides have been made to 16 make county government more efficient by prioritizing and utilizing Lean, 17 the county's continuous improvement program, and other organizational

18 tools. These efforts have reduced the cost-growth of county government 19 and overall expenses. 20 The 2014 budget addresses most of the immediate needs, sets careful 21 priorities, limits expenditures and makes strategic investments. This 22 budget also maintains the county's commitment to its strategic plan and 23 government reform by continuing to challenge all county agencies to work 24 more efficiently. 25 The budget presented by this ordinance maintains basic human services 26 and civil legal aid for many of King County's most vulnerable residents, in 27 line with its commitment to equity and social justice. The council 28 reaffirms its commitment to providing services to survivors of domestic 29 violence and sexual assault. Further, the commitment to break the cycle of 30 homelessness, particularly among our youth and young adults is enhanced. 31 This budget also makes a significant financial contribution to a selection 32 of housing services for low-income families and senior citizens. Finally, 33 this is the last annual budget for the general fund, and select other 34 agencies, as the county finishes its transition to a countywide biennial 35 budget. 36 BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF KING COUNTY: 37 SECTION 1. Findings: The council makes the following findings of fact: 38 A. King County government is responsible for providing a variety of services to 39 county residents. These include: regional services such as criminal justice, public health, 40 transit, animal services, transfer stations and wastewater treatment; subregional services

- through contracts with many suburban cities for police protection, jail services and district court services; and local services to unincorporated areas, such as sheriff protection, conservation of agricultural lands, roads, surface water management, local parks and land use policies.
  - B. Under the King County Charter, the metropolitan King County council sets policy and adopts budgets for the county.

- C. Fiscal restraint and strategic investments enable the council to focus this budget on activities that result in continued efficiencies and services that ensure public safety and address basic needs.
  - Protecting taxpayers dollars: This budget protects our AAA bond rating. King County has adopted countywide fund management policies to ensure that administrative costs are kept appropriately low, departments plan for future costs like pension liabilities, healthcare costs are managed, utilities rates are appropriate and services are cost-efficient.
  - Increasing accountability: The 2014 budget endorses the council and executive's focus on developing a more efficient government by improving business practices. The council's budget strategically deploys Lean staff to focus on the county's highest priorities and establishes accountability for the program's success.
  - Sustaining law, justice and safety services: The council continues to meet its law and justice obligations. This budget continues to fund our nationally recognized public defense system. Additionally, unincorporated residents will benefit from additional deputy sheriffs.

Local government services: This budget recognizes the county's role as the local government to more than two hundred fifty thousand residents by increasing staffing in the sheriff's office and investing funds to benefit our rural parks.

Addressing homelessness: Every day, more than 700 youth and young adults in King County are homeless. This budget helps prevent youth homelessness by funding emergency youth shelters in Seattle, Redmond and Auburn. It also supports programs that reunite runaway teens with their families, provide employment and education training and help formerly homeless youth and young adults make the transition to independent living.

Preserving affordable housing: By investing in critical repairs, this budget helps preserve 147 units of affordable housing. This will work to ensure that low-income seniors and families have accessibility to safe place to live.

Commercially sexually exploited youth: This budget supports King County superior court's efforts to implement a statewide protocol for responding to prostituted children. The goals of this effort include identifying, engaging and helping victimized youth become free from and recover from the exploitation and coercion they have endured.

Protecting water quality: This budget helps to advance King County's commitment to clean water and healthy watersheds for future generations by funding water quality monitoring for the county's rivers, lakes and streams. Consistent scientific monitoring will provide the public with valuable data about what contaminants are in the county's bodies of water. Precise and accurate data on their conditions is necessary to prevent contamination and target clean-up efforts with limited public funds.

Public engagement: The council relied heavily on their constituents' advocacy, public feedback at evening meetings and online comments while developing the 2014 financial plan. The input and the cooperation between the legislative and executive branches helped to produce a forward-thinking, balanced budget to serve the residents of King County.

SECTION 2. Effect of proviso or expenditure restriction veto. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of the council that a veto of any proviso or expenditure restriction that conditions the expenditure of a stated dollar amount or the use of FTE authority upon the performance of a specific action by an agency shall thereby reduce the appropriation authority to that agency by the stated dollar or FTE amount.
