KING COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH

General Information

COVID-19 is a virus strain spreading from person-to-person. Health experts are concerned because this new virus has the potential to cause severe illness and pneumonia in some people — especially people over age 60 or who have weakened immune systems.

CDC | DOH | FAQs | Infographics

Health experts are still learning more about the spread and severity of illness COVID-19 causes. Currently it is thought to spread:

- through respiratory droplets when an infected person coughs, sneezes, or talks
- between people who are in close contact with one another (within about 6 feet)
- by touching a surface or object with the virus and then touching the mouth, nose, or eyes

People with COVID-19 have had a wide range of symptoms reported – from mild symptoms to severe illness. Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure to the virus. People with the following symptoms may have COVID-19:

- Fever or chills
- Cough
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Fatigue
- Muscle pain or body aches
- Headache
- Sore throat
- New loss of taste or smell
- Congestion or runny nose
- Nausea or vomiting
- Diarrhea

Testing for COVID-19

Public Health – Seattle and King County urges anyone who has COVID-19 symptoms or close contact with someone who has COVID-19 be tested right away. For anyone facing any barriers to getting tested, Public Health – Seattle and King County is working with local partners to open additional free COVID-19 testing sites in King County. Contact a healthcare provider to discuss the need for testing.

Don't wait to test if you have symptoms: Early in the crisis, COVID-19 testing was limited, but it is now widely available in King County, and Public Health's testing guidance has changed accordingly in alignment with Washington state Department of Health. DOH FAQs

Free COVID-19 Testing

The following locations provide free COVID-19 testing regardless of immigration or insurance status. They are open to anyone who cannot access a COVID-19 test through their regular healthcare provider. Most sites are non-profit Community Health Centers. Seattle Testing Sites

Public Health – Seattle and King County is supporting the City of Seattle and the University of Washington to launch two free drive-through COVID-19 testing sites. The facilities are located in north and south Seattle and will operate Monday through Saturday, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and accommodate drive-through clients who book ahead through the website. Tests will be administered by the Seattle Fire Department.

SCAN: Free testing by mail

Public Health – Seattle and King County has partnered with the Seattle Flu Study to launch a home testing program called the Seattle Coronavirus Assessment Network (SCAN). The study is working to understand how COVID-19 is spreading throughout King County, and offers free, confidential, at-home tests. Enroll at scanpublichealth.org/screener.

Viral PCR Test

A viral PCT test is a diagnostic tool and is administered when someone is suspected of having COVID-19. A positive result means it is confirmed that the patient has or has recently had COVID-19.

Antibody Test

A new type of test called serology \(antibody\) tests, measures antibodies to the SARS-CoV2 virus (which causes COVID-19). It is a blood test that can be done on anyone with or without symptoms, and it is not a diagnostic tool. The antibody tests show if someone was exposed to the SARS-CoV-2 virus. It is becoming available, but there are important limitations.

An antibody test might not show if you have a current infection because it can take 1–3 weeks after infection for your body to make antibodies. Having antibodies to the virus that causes COVID-19 might provide protection from getting infected with the virus again. If it does, we do not know how much protection the antibodies might provide or how long this protection might last.

Quarantine Guidelines

Public Health – Seattle and King County will adopt the new CDC quarantine guidance for people exposed to someone with COVID-19. Quarantine effectively helps prevent the spread before someone knows they are sick or are infected but without symptoms. The CDC and Public Health recommends the following quarantine options if you have been exposed to someone with COVID-19:

- 14-day quarantine (after your last contact) is still the best way to prevent spreading COVID-19.
- 10 full days (after your last contact) if 14 days is not possible and no symptoms were reported during daily monitoring. Testing is not required. The transmission risk is 1-10%.
- 7 full days (after your last contact) when diagnostic testing resources are sufficient and available and if no symptoms were reported during daily monitoring AND after receiving a negative result from a diagnostic specimen test. Testing must be within 48 hours before the time of ending quarantine. The quarantine cannot be discontinued earlier than Day 7. The transmission risk is 5-12%.

Isolation and Quarantine Sites

The purpose of this set of actions is to provide safe Isolation/Quarantine locations for King County residents who cannot safely isolate or quarantine in their home, either because they do not have one or because they share their home with a vulnerable person.

CDC Guidelines | Public Health Guidelines | FAQs

Local Health Officer Quarantine Directive and Isolation Order

Effective March 28, 2020, individuals who have tested positive for COVID-19 or who are exhibiting symptoms of COVID-19 and have a test result pending may place other vulnerable members of the public at risk. To protect the health of our community and prevent the spread of COVID-19, the Local Health Officer issued the following:

Quarantine Directive

Everyone with COVID-19 symptoms (fever, cough, and/or difficulty breathing) who has a test result pending shall stay in a quarantine location (your home if you have one or in a government directed or publicly provided location if one is available) in accordance with CDC and Public Health guidance.

Isolation Order

- All individuals who tested positive for COVID-19 shall enter and remain in isolation. Do not leave your home or recovery facility, except to receive medical care.
- For individuals with symptoms, discontinue isolation only under the following conditions:
 - At least 24 hours have passed since recovery defined as resolution of fever without the use of fever reducing medications and improvement in respiratory symptoms (e.g., cough, shortness of breath); AND
 - At least 10 days have passed since symptoms first appeared.
- For individuals who tested positive but have not had any symptoms, discontinue isolation when at least 10 days have passed since the date of the first positive COVID-19 diagnostic test, and there has been no subsequent illness.

Compliance

All individuals are strongly urged to voluntarily comply with this directive and order without delay. Individuals who fail to comply may be subject to involuntary detention pursuant to public health authority under RCW 70.05.070 \(2\)-\(3\) and WAC 246-100-036 \(3\).

Assessment Center/Recovery Center (AC/RC)

A large, congregate care facility designed to provide Public Health-supervised care to symptomatic or COVID positive adults who are not able to follow public health guidance for isolation, quarantine, or recovery in their own home, or because they do not have a home. AC/RC facilities can serve as flex space for hospitals, making it possible to discharge non-serious COVID cases to the AC/RC, freeing hospital beds for the most acute cases.

The purpose of this set of actions is to provide “surge” capacity for hospital diversion during the projected peak of an outbreak. This emergency strategy will provide congregate settings for larger groups of people to be assessed for COVID-19 and to receive nurse-level Public Health supervision for people who do not need—or who no longer need—hospital-level care.

King County has identified the following sites for AC/RC assistance (others may be added):

- Shoreline: 19030 – 1st Avenue NE, Shoreline (150)
- Eastgate: 13620 Eastgate Way, Bellevue (150)
- Interbay: 601 Elliott Avenue West, Seattle (72)
- SoDo: 1039 Sixth Ave. S., Seattle (250)

This video highlights an example of how local companies are stepping up to support County residents who will recover at AC/RC sites.

Shelters

King County Reduces Shelter Concentrations

April 2, 2020

King County continues to reduce shelter concentrations by moving nearly 400 people to hotels. This is another in a series of actions King County is taking to “de-intensify” the concentration of people in shelters. This action also will allow locations to stay open 24/7, and meals will be provided. Onsite services and oversight will be provided by the shelter operators. These are not isolation and quarantine facilities. The people who are moving are presumed to be well.

The purpose of this set of actions is to support existing institutions to implement Public Health guidance to prevent transmission of COVID-19. This strategy focuses on preventing people from contracting COVID-19 in the first place.

- The Sophia Way moved 100 people from a shelter site in Bellevue to a hotel in Bellevue, at 625 116th Avenue NE.
- Catholic Community Services moved 90 people from shelter sites in Kent, Federal Way and Renton to a SeaTac hotel, at 2900 S. 192nd Street. It is also moving approximately 40 people from the King County Airport shelter to the Inn at Queen Anne.
- Downtown Emergency Service Center (DESC) moved 200 people from its Seattle shelters to a hotel in Renton, at 1 South Grady Way.
- The Salvation Army moved about 60 people from the King County Administration Building and the King County 4th and Jefferson Building Shelter to the Civic Hotel.

Shelter “De-intensification”

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4i5tMlCF-rU>

Seattle and King County created space for shelter “de-intensification” that allows shelters to maintain the minimum six-foot distance between residents that Public Health recommends.

Facial Coverings Mandatory Statewide

Gov. Jay Inslee has announced a statewide mandate requiring facial coverings when in public effective June 26th. The statewide order includes exemptions for children under 5 and those who are deaf or hard of hearing. Additionally, beginning July 7th, businesses must require all employees and customers to wear face coverings. Under this proclamation, businesses may not serve any customer, services or goods, if they do not comply with the state-wide face covering order. The decision comes as counties across the state, including King County, have seen COVID-19 infections on the rise in the last month as more people interact with each other. On July 23rd, the state also expanded its face covering mandate to include common areas, such as elevators, hallways, lobbies and similar areas effective July 25th.

King County Face Covering Directive

Face coverings are required in all public indoor spaces, and outdoors when you cannot remain 6 feet apart. The Washington State Department of Health has issued a statewide order requiring individuals to wear a face covering in indoor public spaces such as stores, offices and restaurants. The order also requires face coverings outdoors when you can't stay 6 feet apart from others. A face covering is not needed when you are outside walking, exercising, or otherwise outdoors if you are able to regularly stay 6 feet away from other people who do not live with you.

WA DOH Full Guidance | COVID-19 Page

Wear fabric face coverings, such as cloth face masks, scarves, and bandanas. The face covering must fit over your nose and mouth. It is important to save medical-grade surgical masks and N95 respirators for healthcare workers and people who have special health needs.

Instructions on making cloth masks.

To protect yourself, wear face coverings properly.

- Your mask should always cover your nose and mouth.
- Always wash your hands with soap and water or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer before you put on a face covering and after removing it.
- Change your face covering when it gets moist.
- Wash your face covering after each use.

Some people do not need to follow this directive, including:

- Babies and toddlers under age 2 should never wear cloth face coverings.
- Children ages 3-5 are encouraged to wear a face covering when possible.
- Anyone with a disability that makes it hard for them to wear or remove a face covering.
- Anyone who is deaf and moves their face and mouth to communicate.
- Anyone who has been advised by a medical professional to not wear a face covering because of personal health issues.
- Anyone who has trouble breathing, is unconscious, or unable to remove the face covering without help.

REMEMBER: Staying home is still the safest way to prevent spreading COVID-19. When out, wear your face covering, stay 6 feet apart from others, wash your hands frequently, and stay local. Businesses are required to post signage advising individuals to wear face coverings on the premises. Businesses can download a sign that can be used for this purpose at www.kingcounty.gov/masks.

King County Mask Distribution Program

King County purchased 25 million cloth and disposable masks to provide these critical supplies to our communities as we enter new phases of re-opening in the wake of COVID-19. We are working with Chambers of Commerce, King County Cities, County Councilmembers, Community Organizations, Churches and Faith-Based Organizations, Transit Agencies, Food Banks, Senior Centers, and other key stakeholders to get supplies out to King County residents. Please visit this website for more information on how to access these supplies.

Free Face Masks at all King County Safeway Stores

King County residents can visit any of the 59 Safeway locations in King County to obtain free face masks. Customers can obtain two free reusable masks per person in their household, for up to 12 masks total, while at the checkout stand. For a list of other mask distribution sites in King County, please visit this website.

Local Emergency Actions

Local jurisdictions may choose to impose additional actions or guidance to their communities. Visit Public Health — Seattle and King County's website and see King County's response to COVID-19.

Enforcement

On March 30th, Gov. Jay Inslee, outlined three tiers of response to complaints of suspected violation of the order.

- The first tier is to educate the suspected violator about how to comply with the order.
- For those who don't comply at that point, the state could issue citations or suspend permits, including revocation of business licenses.
- At the third tier, for continued violators, cases could be referred to the Attorney General for either civil or criminal charges.

People who suspect a business is violating the order can visit the state's coronavirus site to report online or can contact local law enforcement through non-emergency numbers. Inslee and other officials stressed that people should not call 911 to report such violations.

In King County, violating a Local Health Order is a misdemeanor. Violators of the Governor's Proclamations may be subject to criminal penalties. King County will not be actively searching for violations, our focus is on helping people understand the importance of social distancing, rather than citations. If you have specific questions or reports related to this Guidance, please email coronavirus@kingcounty.gov.

FDA Warns the Public About Methanol-based Hand Sanitizers

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has issued a warning about methanol-based hand sanitizers. Guidelines for Opening up America Again

Developed by the top medical experts from across the Government and based on verifiable metrics regarding the situation on the ground, the guidelines outline a phased return to reopening including specific steps for State, Local, and Tribal officials to follow in tailoring their response. The plan, exclamation points and all, can be found here: Guidelines for Opening up America Again! This marks all levels of government starting to coalesce around a stepwise re-emergence strategy centered on sound public health guidance.

Contact Tracing

On May 12th, Gov. Jay Inslee announced the launch of a statewide contact tracing plan that will allow more businesses to open and more people to be active in public while helping to slow and prevent the spread of COVID-19.

The responsibility for contact tracing in Washington state essentially lies with the counties. Public Health — Seattle and King County have 61 contact tracers handling about 500 cases per week. The agency believes they are reaching most people who have COVID-19.

However, not all counties have the resources to do so, which is why the state Department of Health will step in with three layers of help: the agency's own contact tracers, a contractor with 78 trained individuals and a plan to hire more, and the Washington National Guard, which has 250 trained contact tracers. The Guard believes they will only need 133 but are prepared to use all 250 if needed to contact potentially exposed people. Read more about it here.

New COVID-19 Exposure Notification Tool

Gov. Jay Inslee and the Washington State Department of Health announced the launch of WA Notify, an anonymous exposure notification tool that was created to help stop the spread of COVID-19. The app will alert residents if they spent time near another WA Notify user who later tests positive for COVID-19. It uses privacy-preserving technology and works without collecting or revealing personal data or location. Read more about it here.

Vaccine Distribution Plan in Washington

On January 18th, Gov. Inslee announced an updated statewide vaccine distribution and administration plan to increase the number of Washingtonians vaccinated and establish infrastructure capable of mass vaccinations in the coming months. Read more here.

The state DOH has moved to Phase 1B1 of the vaccine distribution plan, which includes anyone 65 and older, and all people 50 and older who also live in a multigenerational household. Read more about this in the state website.

COVID-19 Vaccine in King County

As of January 18, 2021, Washington State Department of Health has opened vaccine distribution through Phase 1b1. Learn more about eligibility and getting vaccinated in King County. Vaccination is currently open for people who are:

- Eligible for Phase 1A: all workers at risk of acquisition or transmission of COVID in healthcare settings; long-term care facility staff and residents; and home health and care aides.
- Eligible for Phase 1B1:
 - Age 65 years and older
 - Age 50 and older if they live in a household where two or more generations live, (such as an elder and a grandchild), and meet these qualifications:
 - Cannot live independently and receive support from a relative or caregiver (paid or unpaid) or someone who works outside the home
 - Lives with and cares for a young child, like a grandparent with a grandchild.

Vaccination Sites and Mobile Teams

King County will allocate $7 million to create high-volume community vaccination sites and mobile teams to be able to vaccinate as many residents as possible. Public Health – Seattle and King County Director Patty Hayes said the county plans to launch two vaccinations sites in hard-hit South King County as soon as February 1st.

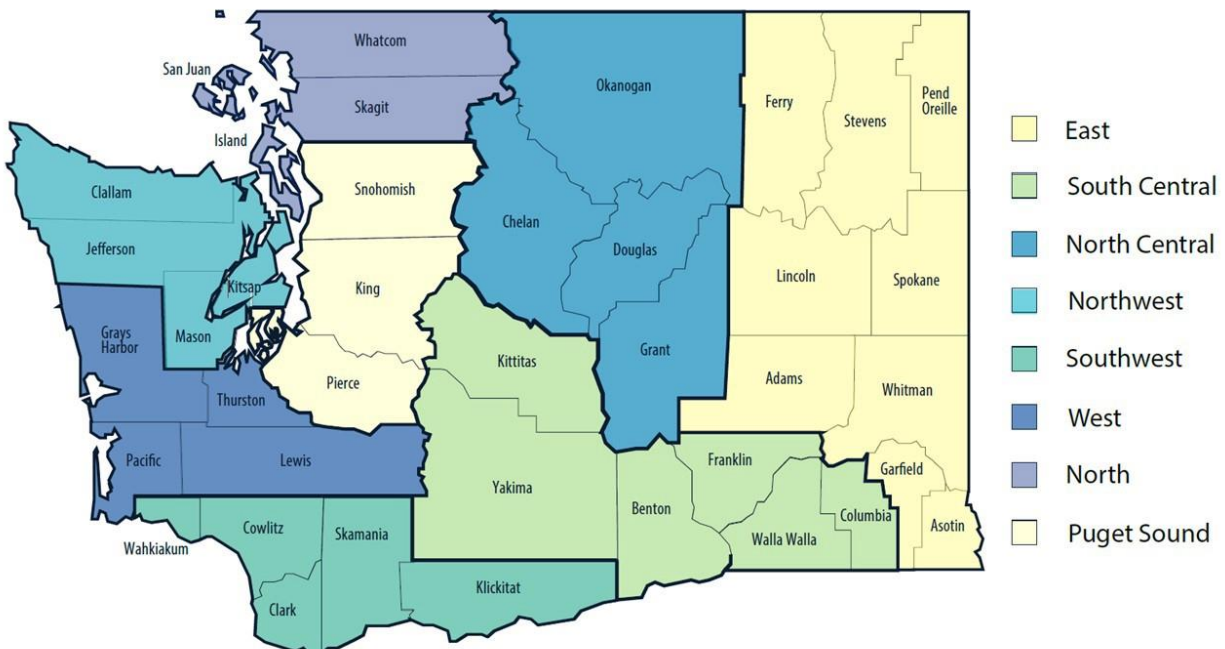

The sites will serve people at highest risk of severe illness and death from COVID-19 first and eventually be open to all members of the public as more vaccine supplies become available. In addition, five mobile strike teams will form to reach those who are not able to visit a healthcare provider or vaccination center. Read more here.

COVID-19 Risk Assessment Dashboard

The State has put together a COVID-19 Risk Assessment Dashboard that provides a high-level overview of the main data points discussed among state leaders and the level of risk experts perceive around the current numbers and situation. The dashboard gives more details on the metrics discussed by Gov. Inslee that will be used to determine readiness to proceed safely through a phased reopening.

Healthy Washington – Roadmap to Recovery Plan

On January 5, 2021, Gov. Jay Inslee and the state Department of Health announced a new reopening plan which starts as a two-phase plan and will allow regions to reopen upon meeting new metrics on hospitalization, case data and test positivity. The state will add more phases as the situation improves. Beginning on January 11, 2021, the state will follow a regional recovery approach with every region beginning in Phase 1. Read more here.

The regions are mostly based on Emergency Medical Services (EMS) regions used for evaluating healthcare services. Regional assessment will be conducted weekly with analysis done each Friday. Transitions will be automatic per the recommendation of the state DOH, therefore there will be no application process unlike last year's Safe Start Plan. All eight regions will begin in Phase 1 and in order to move to Phase 2, a region must meet all four metrics:

- 10% decline in two-week COVID-19 case rate per 100K population
- 10% decline in two-week new COVID-19 hospital admission rates per 100K population
- Less than 90% ICU occupancy rates (both COVID-19 and non-COVID-19 patients)
- Less than 10% COVID-19 test positivity rate

To remain in Phase 2, regions must meet at least three metrics:

- Decreasing or flat trend in two-week COVID-19 case rate per 100K population
- Decreasing or flat trend in two-week new COVID-19 hospital admission rates per 100K population
- Less than 90% ICU occupancy rates (both COVID-19 and non-COVID-19 patients)
- Less than 10% COVID-19 test positivity rate

Regions that fail to meet two or more of the above metrics will be moved back to Phase 1.

Guidance for the Agricultural Industry

On June 2nd, Gov. Jay Inslee issued guidance further clarifying requirements for the agricultural industry. This comes after the governor issued Proclamation 20-57 concerning the health of agricultural workers. It also builds on the Agricultural Safety Plan and previous guidance from the Washington State Department of Labor and Industries.

Agricultural Worker Testing

On August 19th, Gov. Inslee issued an update to Proclamation 20-57, “Concerning the Health of Agricultural Workers.” The proclamation now requires agricultural employers to test their workforce broadly when health officials identify an outbreak that passes certain thresholds. Read more about it here.

COVID-19 Food Production Worker Paid Leave Program

On August 13th, Gov. Inslee issued a proclamation, Food Production Workers Paid Leave, while concurrently setting aside $3 million to fund the program. This Washington state program requires and reimburses certain food production employers for paying leave to workers who may or do have a positive COVID-19 diagnosis and is meant to complement the federal Families First Coronavirus Response Act. Read more about it here.

Cap on Third-Party Delivery Fees to Help Restaurants

On November 19th, Gov. Inslee announced a new cap on fees charged to restaurants by third-party delivery platforms, such as Uber Eats, DoorDash, GrubHub, Postmates and others. The proclamation caps delivery fees at 15% and total fees at 18% of the purchase price of an order. Third party delivery platforms have seen increased usage as fewer people are dining indoors this year due to health restrictions and concerns over contracting COVID-19. Read more about it here.

Federal funds distributed for COVID-19 outbreak response

The federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act, signed into law on March 27, 2020, appropriated approximately $2.95 billion to state and local governments in Washington state to help fund the response to the COVID-19 outbreak. To view what these funds include and how they have been allocated, click here.

Driver Licenses and Instruction Permits Temporary Extension

Gov. Inslee has taken action to allow the Department of Licensing (DOL) to temporarily extend the expiration dates of driver licenses and learner permits. This provides extra time to renew online or schedule an appointment without incurring penalties or late fees. Permit holders can continue to practice driving. Some licensing offices have reopened and are accepting limited in-person driver licensing appointments. Visit DOL's website for more information.

- Licenses and permits expiring March 1 – June 30, 2020 are valid 360 days past the date printed on the card.
- Licenses and permits expiring July 1 – September 30, 2020 are valid 270 days past the date printed on the card.
- Licenses and permits expiring October 1 – December 31, 2020 are valid 180 days past the date printed on the card.

- Licenses and permits expiring January 1 – March 31, 2021 are valid 90 days past the date printed on the card.

High-risk Worker Proclamation

On April 13th, Gov. Jay Inslee issued a proclamation giving high-risk workers the right to protect themselves from COVID-19 without jeopardizing their employment status or loss of income. On July 29th, Gov. Inslee issued Proclamation 20-46.2, amending Proclamation 20-05, which prevents all employers, public or private, from failing to provide accommodation to high-risk employees, as defined by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), that protects them from risk of exposure to the COVID-19 disease on the job. Read more here.

The employer must offer high-risk employees alternative work assignments, including telework, alternative, or remote work locations, if feasible, and social distancing measures:

- If an alternative work assignment is not feasible, or the employee declines, the employer must allow the employee to use any accrued leave or seek unemployment benefits;
- The employer must maintain the employee's health insurance benefits;
- The employer is prohibited from permanently replacing high-risk employees.

Telemedicine Expanded for Medicaid Clients, Public Employees and School Workers

The state has taken several steps to support expanded use of telehealth for Medicaid clients as well as public employees and school workers. This includes providing services through telephone interaction; online digital interaction through a patient portal; and video-based evaluation and management health services. Learn much more on their website.

Reducing COVID-19 Transmission Risk in Correctional Facilities

On April 13th, Gov. Jay Inslee announced steps to protect the health of incarcerated individuals by focusing on the early release of vulnerable populations, including nonviolent individuals who are due to be released within the coming weeks and months. The plan will focus on individuals incarcerated for nonviolent and drug- or alcohol-related offenses, as well as people held on lower-level supervision violations.

Department of Adult and Juvenile Detention

The Department of Adult and Juvenile Detention is taking emergency action to ensure the health and safety of people in custody, visitors, and staff at all correctional facilities during the COVID-19 outbreak. King County Executive Dow Constantine also signed an order on March 24th suspending the work release program as part of several steps to reduce the number of people in custody and ensure the health of everyone in correctional facilities during the COVID-19 pandemic.

King County Council Approves Fifth Round of Federal Emergency Funding

On November 10, the King County Council approved the fifth round of federal emergency funding in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The additional $46.7 million approved will be used to continue the support for the local response to the pandemic, including funds to improve pandemic safety in select childcare centers across King County. Food Assistance

USDA Meals for Kids

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) launched the “Meals for Kids” Site Finder to help families find meals for children while schools are closed during the coronavirus pandemic.

Free and Reduced-Price Meals

As the economic impacts of COVID-19 continue, more families are taking advantage of free meals provided by school districts. School districts have been able to provide free meals to all children aged 0–18, or older if enrolled in the K–12 school system, through the end of December 2020, thanks to waivers granted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). However, once the funds run out at the end of the calendar year, many students will still need access to free or reduced-price meals from their school. Read more about it here.

Basic Food Employment and Training Program (BFET)

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) recently approved Washington’s proposal to allow low-income students in a wider range of certificate, degree and industry-recognized programs to receive food assistance through the state’s Basic Food Employment and Training Program, or BFET, provided they meet all the other eligibility criteria. Previously, this support was available only to income-eligible students enrolled in vocational programs or basic skills classes, severely limiting the number of students potentially eligible for BFET. Read more about it here.

Map of Free Food Resources

Public Health – Seattle and King County and the City of Seattle released a map of free food resources, which will be updated weekly. This new tool includes information about resources across King County in order to provide emergency food during COVID-19.

Emergency Food Access Resources

Public Health – Seattle and King County has assembled an array of resources for people who need help staying fed during the COVID-19 pandemic. The page, which will be continuously updated as new resources become available, includes information on food delivery, pick-up, and access in general with specific information for older adults, children, pregnant people and new moms, people without shelter, and more. You can access the site here.

Women, Infants, Children

WIC is the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children. The program gives families access to nutritious foods, nutrition education and breastfeeding support, health assessments and referrals. People seeking WIC services do not need to visit a WIC clinic. WIC services are available by phone or video chat even when physical buildings are closed. To find WIC services in your area: Call the Help Me Grow WA Hotline at 1-800-322-2588 | Text "WIC" to 96859 Visit ParentHelp123's ResourceFinder | Download the WIC Shopper app for more information.

Pandemic EBT

P-EBT is a new emergency program for ALL children in grades K-12, who receive free or reduced-price school meals. P-EBT is not subject to public charge and will not affect your immigration status. P-EBT provides families with funds to pay the cost of meals while schools are closed due to COVID-19. If your family receives Basic Food through DSHS and your children receive free or reduced-price school meals, you do not need to apply for P-EBT. You will automatically receive these one-time benefits on your EBT card. Check with your school district to find out if you need to apply for free or reduced-price school meals so your family can receive P-EBT funds.

If your children are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals but do not receive Basic Food benefits, you will need to apply for P-EBT or call 877-501-2233. The deadline to apply has been extended to September 16th at 3:00PM.

Disaster Cash Assistance Program

Washington State has made an emergency change to how Disaster Cash Assistance Program (DCAP) funds can be used in order to further assist people in need during the COVID-19 crisis. It is normally used to help low-income families following natural disasters, but the State has made an emergency change to the WAC to allow funds to be used during the pandemic.

This policy change will provide assistance for one month to Washington families and people without children who are not eligible for other cash programs, and who meet the income and resource limits of the program. People can apply for assistance by calling the Customer Service Contact Center at 877-501-2233 or by applying online at WashingtonConnection.org.

Statewide Moratorium on Evictions

On December 31st, Gov. Jay Inslee extended protections for renters through March 31, 2021 as COVID-19 continues to impact the finances of Washingtonians statewide. The proclamation extends state rental assistance programs to incorporate the newly approved federal funding for rental assistance. Furthermore, the stated goal of these rental assistance programs is modified to provide a path for landlords, property owners, and property managers to initiate an application for rental assistance. The proclamation also clarifies that landlords and property owners may communicate with tenants in support of their applications for rental assistance.

The governor first proclaimed a moratorium on evictions in mid-March last year, then extended and expanded the moratorium. The King County Sheriff's Office has said it won't enforce evictions during the continuing outbreak.

Rental Assistance

King County Eviction Prevention and Rent Assistance Program

King County has created a new program to assist households economically impacted by the coronavirus due to illness, loss of income or unemployment who have been unable to meet rent obligations and are at risk for eviction. King County Department of Community and Human Services stopped receiving new Eviction Prevention and Rent Assistance Program interest forms from tenants and landlords on Friday, December 4th at 5:00 PM, in order to process assistance for tenants and properties ahead of the December 30th, 2020 expenditure deadline. The Washington COVID-19 Immigrant Relief Fund will provide $40 million in federal funds allocated by the state to assist Washington workers who miss work due to COVID-19 but are unable to access federal stimulus programs and other resources due to their immigration status. While the fund is operational, eligible recipients will receive $1,000, with a limit of $3,000 per household. Applications are open through December 6th. Benefits will be disbursed by December 28th.

Other Resources for Immigrants

One America has compiled a list of resources in Washington State (some in multiple languages) to ensure everyone in our communities is able to receive the care and necessities they need. You can access these resources here or on the council's www.kingcounty.gov/council/gethelp site.

Columbia Legal Services has developed a coronavirus benefits information guide for people without immigration status, currently available in English and Spanish--and they are in the process of translating it into other languages.

RESOURCES FOR WASHINGTON STATE TRIBES

The Washington State Department of Commerce announced $5 million in emergency grants is now available to the 29 federally recognized tribes in the state to bolster their response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Each tribal government will receive an immediate grant of $100,000, with the remaining $2.1 million distributed based on a formula currently under development between Commerce and tribal leaders. More information about the grants is posted here under the "COVID-19 Emergency Response Grant for Tribal Governments" section.

On May 28th, Gov. Inslee announced the release of a proclamation related to provisions restricting tribes' use of fuel tax refunds to highway and transportation-related purposes. The proclamation is effective immediately and will expire on June 27, 2020.

ASSISTANCE FOR KING COUNTY PET OWNERS

Regional Animal Services of King County (RASKC) has joined an amazing regional effort to ensure pet owners are able to keep their animals happy and healthy by addressing food insecurity in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Through the generous support of GreaterGood.org, a national nonprofit that protects people, pets and the planet, Seattle Humane worked with a team of shelter partners to create a distribution hub to get ongoing donations of pet food and supplies to those struggling financially.

King County has leased a warehouse to store pallets of pet food and supplies, which will be distributed across the state. The groups have created an updated interactive map to help pet owners find distribution sites around the region. Pet owners who are unable to visit a physical location can visit this link to fill out and submit a Pet Food Bank request form. For questions, please call 425-649-7566 or email outreach@seattlehumane.org.

These workers are often ineligible for other forms of paid leave, even when exposed to COVID-19. Read more about it here.

Regular Unemployment

ESD adopted a series of emergency rules to relieve the burden of temporary layoffs, isolation and quarantine for workers and businesses esd.wa.gov/unemployment. Some of the changes include:

- You must provide basic information, including:
 - Your name, date of birth, and Social Security number
 - Names and addresses of all employers
 - Dates you worked at each employer
 - Your citizenship status or authorization to work
- Job search requirements are optional for all claimants until the Pandemic State of Emergency is lifted.
- The one-week waiting period to be eligible for unemployment benefits is waived until December 28, 2020.
- Once you are approved, you will need to submit a weekly claim for each week you are unemployed.
- If you are unsure of your eligibility, apply anyway. Complete the application as best you can and ESD will follow up with you as soon as possible.
- For information on temporary layoffs, standby and furloughs, click here.

Tips for Workers Seeking Unemployment

ESD recommends workers take the following four steps to help ensure their unemployment benefits are filed correctly and start quickly:

1. Sign up for the agency's COVID-19 action alerts.
2. Download and review the ESD eligibility checker. This will help workers determine if they are currently eligible for benefits.
3. Download and read the application checklist to make sure that you have what you need.
4. A Secure Access Washington (SAW) account is needed to file an unemployment claim. ESD recently posted a video that explains the process to be followed in order to apply for benefits. After reviewing the video, please sign up for a SAW account.

Federal Stimulus and Washington Pandemic Relief Payment

On December 27th, Gov. Jay Inslee authorized the use of federal CARES Act funds to help Washington claimants whose Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA) benefits expired on December 26th and were waiting for federal legislation to extend the benefits. The Pandemic Relief Payment (PRP) Program from the state will provide a one-time payment of $550 for some recipients of PUA benefits. On the same day, federal legislation, which extends, expands and changes the CARES Act provisions for both Pandemic Emergency Unemployment Compensation (PEUC) and Pandemic Unemployment Assistance (PUA), was signed into law. However, claimants eligible for the one-time Pandemic Relief Payment will still receive it. You can read more here.

Fraudulent Unemployment Claims

If you have reason to believe someone has applied for unemployment benefits using your information or used a scam to obtain your private information, please report that to us using the information below. You can go to <https://secure.esd.wa.gov/home/> to log in or create an account and verify your identity to ensure that your social security number isn't associated with an email that isn't yours. If someone else is claiming benefits under your name, you will need to report the fraud as soon as possible.

Workers' Compensation

Workers' compensation is a state-run insurance program that provides benefits for people who suffer job-related injuries or illnesses. It is operated by the Washington State Department of Labor and Industries (lni.wa.gov). In most cases, exposure to or contraction of COVID-19 is not considered to be an allowable, work-related condition. FAQs

However, under certain circumstances, claims from health care providers and first responders involving COVID-19 may be allowed. For a COVID-19 claim, you must show:

- There is an increased risk due to your occupation
- If not for your job, you would not have been exposed
- You can identify a specific source or event in your job that led to your exposure (for instance, you treated a patient with the virus)

How can I file a COVID-19 claim?

For workers: Online via FileFast tool | By phone: 1-877-561-3453 (FILE)

At your doctor's office (if you complete the Report of Accident at your doctor's office, the doctor files the form for you).

Event Cancellation Insurance

Event venues typically recommend the person or company booking a scheduled event to have event cancellation insurance coverage. Coverage for communicable disease outbreaks, such as a coronavirus, is typically not included in a standard event cancellation insurance policy. Read more about it here.

Travel Insurance

Travel insurance can protect you against financial loss if you're forced to cancel, delay or interrupt your vacation, business trip, or other travels. It can also offer you protection if you experience a medical emergency, damage to personal property and even if a death occurs while you're traveling.

Before buying travel insurance

Check to see if it covers trip cancellation due to health and disease outbreaks (i.e., Coronavirus) or natural disasters where you are traveling to.

Insurance Assistance

The Washington State Insurance Commissioner can help answer questions about insurance coverage for damages related to COVID-19.

What you need to be covered: To be covered against any business losses due to a communicable disease, such as COVID-19, you would need to have purchased an additional endorsement to your policy. Contact your insurance agent or insurance company directly to find out if you already have this added coverage. If you don't have added coverage and would like to buy it, contact your insurance agent or company to see if it's available. If you didn't buy the added endorsement prior to the outbreak and you want to buy it, the insurer may not want to sell you the endorsement.

NOTE: The Office of the Insurance Commissioner does not have the authority to require insurers to sell any type of coverage or policy endorsements to consumers.

EDUCATION and CHILD CARE

Updated School Guidance

Gov. Jay Inslee and Superintendent of Public Instruction Chris Reykdal announced new recommendations that update the metrics to inform local school district decisions for in-person learning during the COVID-19 pandemic. You can read more here.

Technology Investment for Washington Students and Staff

On October 30th, Gov. Inslee announced the allocation of $24 million in Coronavirus Relief Funds to purchase approximately 64,000 computing devices for students across the state. These devices will enable students to receive their education in the new COVID-19 remote learning environment. The first shipment of 20,000 devices is expected in the coming weeks. Read more about it here.

Tuition Waiver Proclamation

On September 25th, Gov. Inslee extended a proclamation related to the Washington residency requirement for public university tuition waivers in response to the COVID-19 pandemic until the termination of the COVID-19 State of Emergency or until rescinded, whichever occurs first.

New Proclamations Related to Public Education

On August 26th, Gov. Jay Inslee issued two proclamations related to public education in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. The first proclamation suspends the residency requirement that allows public university graduate students to receive tuition waivers in exchange for performing teaching and research functions. The proclamation is effective for 30 days and will expire on September 25th.

The second proclamation addresses student transportation for public K-12 schools. It prohibits school districts from interpreting the Student Transportation statutes in a manner that would restrict a school's ability to use its current transportation allocation for certain purposes. The permitted purposes include using buses and bus drivers to deliver educational materials (homework/educational packets/other tangible instructional materials); meals; and any technology (like WiFi hotspots) that will enable students to learn remotely. School districts can also transport students to and from learning centers.

New Recommendations for 2020-2021 School Year

Student Loans Deferment

To provide relief to student loan borrowers during the COVID-19 national emergency, federal student loan borrowers are automatically being placed in an administrative forbearance, which allows you to temporarily stop making your monthly loan payment. On Aug. 8, 2020, President Trump directed the Secretary to continue to suspend loan payments, stop collections, and waive interest on ED-held student loans until Dec. 31, 2020. You can still make payments if you choose to do so. <https://studentaid.gov/announcements-events/coronavirus>

TRAVELERS and COMMUTERS

Negative COVID-19 Test Requirement to all air passengers entering US

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is expanding negative COVID-19 test requirement to all air passengers entering the United States. Air passengers are required to get a viral test (a test for current infection) within the 3 days before their flight to the U.S. departs, and provide written documentation of their laboratory test result (paper or electronic copy) to the airline or provide documentation of having recovered from COVID-19. Airlines must confirm the negative test result for all passengers or documentation of recovery before they board. If a passenger does not provide documentation of a negative test or recovery, or chooses not to take a test, the airline must deny boarding to the passenger. Read more here.

New International Travel Restrictions

On December 21st, Gov. Jay Inslee and state health officials announced new international travel restrictions on travelers arriving from the United Kingdom and South Africa and other nations that have reported cases of a COVID-19 virus that has mutated. The order is not a mandate or a ban on travel but is recommending that travelers from these countries should isolate themselves for 14 days upon arrival in Washington state, including those who just arrived in the past days. Experts said that the vaccines being rolled out would still be effective against it, indicating that early evidence shows the strain is not more lethal but is roughly 70% more contagious. Watch the announcement here.

FAA adopts stricter unruly passenger policy

In a press release issued yesterday, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Administrator Steve Dickson announced a stricter legal enforcement policy against unruly airline passengers in the wake of disturbing increase in incidents where airline passengers have disrupted flights with violent or threatening behavior, stemming from the passengers' refusals to wear masks and recent violence at the U.S. Capitol. The new policy provides no warnings, includes fines up to $35,000 and possible jail time, and has zero tolerance for unruly behavior. Read more here.

Travel Advisory

On November 13th, Gov. Inslee issued a travel advisory for Washington state, recommending a 14-day quarantine for interstate and international travel and asking residents to stay close to home instead. The advisory also recommend people limit their interactions with their immediate household to help reduce the spread of COVID-19. Oregon and California have issued the same advisory for their residents. Read more about it here.

New Standards for Airports in Washington

On September 24th, Gov. Inslee announced that Washington is setting new requirements for commercial airports and recommendations for airlines. This is a statewide approach to the COVID-19 pandemic to help protect the health and safety of workers, passengers and crew in the aviation sector. In addition to the new baseline guidance from the state, Delta Air Lines, Alaska

Airlines and the Port of Seattle announced additional steps to protect the health and safety of airline passengers and staff. Read more about it here.

Seattle-Tacoma International Airport

Seattle-Tacoma International Airport continually prepares for the gradual reopening of our economy. This includes doubling down on cleaning. Measures being taken include frequent disinfection with medical-grade cleaning products with an emphasis on high-touch areas, and an additional 250 hand sanitizer stations throughout the terminal. Coming soon, bathrooms that aren't already touchless will be converted, two-hour cleaning at security checkpoints and deep cleaning TSA bins after hours, and electrostatic sprayers from Clorox and Victory will be added into their fleet of cleaning equipment. Alaska Airlines offers rapid testing for Hawaii-bound travelers

Alaska Airlines will partner with Carbon Health to offer rapid COVID-19 testing at its pop-up clinics across the west coast, starting October 12th in Seattle. Hawaii will begin to welcome visitors back by allowing out-of-state travelers to enjoy the islands without a 14-day quarantine when they test negative for COVID-19 within 72 hours of their final leg of departure to Hawaii. Read more about it here.

Travel and COVID-19 Testing

Sea-Tac International Airport (SEA) and Washington state do not require COVID-19 testing prior to travel or quarantines upon arrival, but SEA has begun a partnership with Discovery Health MD to do COVID-19 testing for ticketed passengers heading to destinations that require arriving passengers to have been tested. The COVID-19 PCR testing is by appointment, up to 72 hours in advance of your travel, and there is a $250 charge for the testing. Results are returned the same or next day. For passengers departing from SEA and seeking a COVID-19 test before travel other than at the Airport, you can find out more information and some suggested testing sites here.

Traveling to Medical Appointments

Public Health is working with Metro to develop COVID-transportation for people with disabilities. Metro Access is maintaining its traditional service area, hours and days of service, and may be an option for fixed-route riders with disabilities who are not currently certified for Access service.

- Customers with disabilities who are no longer able to reach their essential destinations using fixed-route service can contact the Access Transportation Call Center at 206-205-5000 for assistance with both urgent and ongoing essential transportation needs.
- Customers with disabilities who have urgent transportation needs do not need to be currently certified for Access service. However, those with an ongoing need for transportation will need to apply for Access service through Metro's temporarily streamlined eligibility process. To learn more about safely travelling to medical appointments, see Public Health Insider, the news blog for Public Health.

Sound Transit

Read Sound Transit's Platform blog post for the latest information on how Sound Transit is responding to heightened COVID-19 concerns.

Fares

Starting July 1st, fare collection has resumed on ST Express buses*. With this resumption, Sound Transit has also transitioned to a single flat fare of $3.25 for all Adult riders on ST Express, regardless of distance traveled. Flat fares for ORCA LIFT, youth, seniors and riders with disabilities remain the same. $3.25 adult flat fare aligns ST with other regional agencies. More information about the flat fare is available here.

 Fare collection is dependent on the completion of safety measure being installed at the front of the buses, so some routes may continue to be fare-free until these measures are complete.

Temporary Recovery Fares on Link light rail and Sounder trains expire and fares return to regular full fares published for Link light rail and Sounder service. Passengers who qualify can now apply for ORCA Lift online or over the phone without having to visit a processing site.

Fare Enforcement Officers

Starting May 19th, fare enforcement officers will begin educating riders about the resumption of fares, including the Temporary Recovery Fare, and providing information about ORCA Lift. Once fares resume, fare enforcement officers will follow social distancing guidelines and request that riders show an ORCA card, a Transit GO Ticket app activated ticket, or a ticket as proof of payment.

Service Changes

Sound Transit's annual fall service change begins Saturday, September 19th, for Link light rail and ST Express bus routes operated by King County Metro. It begins Sunday, September 20th, for ST Express bus routes operated by Community Transit or Pierce Transit, and Monday, September 21st, for Sounder train. Visit the Service Changes site for more information.

Starting September 19th, service on Link Light Rail will run every eight minutes during peak hours on weekdays, every 15 minutes on weekends and off-peak on weekdays, and every 30 minutes on evenings.

Starting September 21st, Sounder South will increase to nine round trips from seven round trips, and schedule adjustments will be made to several ST Express routes to better meet rider demand.

Starting November 16th, Route 522 will have two morning trips and one afternoon trip.

Starting December 20th, Route 574 will have an additional early morning northbound trip, Route 590 will have nine additional northbound trips in early morning between 4:30 am and 7:30 am, and Route 577/578 will have extra morning, midday, and afternoon peak trips to fill in gaps in the Sounder schedule.

Rider Dashboard

King County Metro has unveiled a new dashboard, "The Dash", which displays data on ridership, mask use and other metrics systemwide and on a route-by-route level. The dashboard only covers Metro bus routes, and provides customers, communities, and partners with up-to-date answers to frequently asked questions about transit. You can learn more here.

Fare Collection

Beginning October 1st, King County Metro will resume fare collection for all transit services: buses, Access paratransit, Seattle Streetcar (First Hill and South Lake Union), Vanpool, Via to Transit and other flexible services, and water taxi (Vashon Island and West Seattle).

While Metro continues to accept cash and paper tickets, as well as provide paper transfers, riders are encouraged to use a contactless payment option – ORCA card or Transit GO Tickets – to speed up the boarding process, and further protect both themselves and the operator.

- Acquire an ORCA card online or in-person
- Acquire Transit GO Tickets through your mobile device.
- Pass Sales Office recently reopened to assist customers in getting ORCA cards and reloading their E-purses.
- ORCA LIFT is available to help reduce the cost of riding Metro for those who qualify

- Youth and seniors are also eligible for reduced fares. To learn more and for help enrolling, call Metro at 206-553-3000 or visit www.kingcounty.gov/metro/fares.

Metro will suspend fare enforcement through the end of 2020. Fare enforcement officers will continue to provide a broad range of customer services, including answering questions related to using transit and navigating new safety innovations. Read more about it here.

Service Restoration

On June 22nd, Metro will restore service to some routes and increase water taxi service as more industries reopen and restrictions are gradually lifted. For a complete list of service changes, visit King County Metro.

- If your route is not operating, transit planners have created a list of options to consider. Also, customer service is available to help with trip planning 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday at 206-553-3000.
- To support public health and prevent the spread of COVID-19, riders are still required to wear masks when riding transit and in situations where they cannot maintain six feet of distance from other people.
- Fares are not yet being collected on Metro services through end of September. Riders should board at the middle or back doors unless they need to access the ADA area or boarding assistance.
- Access paratransit program continues normal operations and follows its enhanced daily sanitization procedures. Access is pleased to present an easy and convenient way to book trips ahead with their new online Trip Manager. Access also restarted fare collection on October 1st along with all other Metro services. Riders can pay with cash, Transit GO Ticket app, or ORCA monthly pass. In the coming months, an online fare payment for Access will also be launched. Read more about it here.
- Metro added trips and seat signs to support public health and passenger safety.

Text to Departures - as the new schedule rolls out, buses may be running less often, during fewer hours, and/or be canceled. As such, we encourage riders to text their bus stop ID # to 62550 to find out when the next bus will arrive.

To plan your trips, call Metro Customer Service at 206-553-3000 (WA Relay: 711).

If you need an interpreter, select the interpreter option (Press 1). Nearly 200 languages are covered by the translation line. Please note that interpreter calls may take longer.

For routes that experienced service cuts (i.e., fewer hours and/or frequency of trips), there's an Interactive Web Tool listing specific trips cut for each route.

During the COVID-19 response riders should take into account that electronic resources such as Google maps, One Bus Away and other applications and websites won't have accurate information for all trips.

More Reliable Transportation in South King County from Metro

On September 19th, King County Metro service changes in South King County took place to get you where you need to go. These changes will improve bus service through improved efficiency, more convenient routes and better east-west travel. Learn more about what's changing, check whether your route is affected, and review the latest guidance on how to ride safely, at www.kingcounty.gov/GetReady.

Passenger Limits

Metro institutes passenger limits to maintain safe spacing on buses. To help maintain six feet of separation from others, Metro identified the optimal number of riders on to be 12 on a 40-foot bus and 19 on a 60-foot bus. The optimal number of passengers in the ADA priority seating area is one. When a bus reaches or exceeds the optimal number, the driver will pass subsequent stops unless current passengers wish to exit. Drivers may show their bus is at capacity by switching the external destination from “Essential Trips Only” reminder to “Coach is Full, Sorry.” Customers are asked to please reserve transit for first responders, medical personnel, other essential workers, and people who rely on Metro for access to food, medicine and other essential needs.

VanPool/VanShare

To support COVID-19 response and recovery efforts, Metro is offering essential workers the opportunity to form temporary vanpools with as few as two riders. Metro Vanpools have been reduced to a minimum of two people for new and existing groups, and Metro is not collecting fares on the service until further notice. Additionally, Metro has designated a limited supply of vans to provide essential workers with a rideshare option where other transit options are unavailable. You can learn more here.

Effective April 1st, participants’ vanpool/vanshare costs above their employer subsidy will be waived until further notice. Fares will be waived in-full for participants with no employer subsidy. Metro is also temporarily easing the van ridership requirements. For more information, email vanpool@kingcounty.gov, visit www.kingcounty.gov/metrovans or call 206-625-4500.

PARKS and RECREATION

King County Parks

King County Parks' level of service is dependent upon their workforce capacity and state guidelines. Click here to see what's open now.

State Parks

More than 100 Washington state parks reopen for day use on Tuesday, May 5th. Many others remain closed and there are restrictions and guidelines that must be followed. Click here to view a list of what is and isn't open.

Ready to get outside in a physically distanced way? Here are some tips:

- If you feel sick at all, even a little bit, you need to stay home. Wait until you feel better.
- Gatherings are still prohibited. You can golf or fish or hunt or go to the park with people in your own household, but not with your other friends or family just yet.
- Spend your time outside far away from other people. If you are temporarily unable to be at least six feet away from others, wear a cloth face covering.
- Do not travel to outdoor recreation areas. Enjoy the outdoors that is closer to your home. Overnight trips and camping are still prohibited.

Please note that bathrooms may not be open yet at all locations, especially at parks and other areas that were closed for the winter. Do not forget to wash your hands. Bring water and soap with you and don't forget to scrub for 20 seconds. You may want to bring some hand sanitizer and toilet paper in your backpack too.

Individual parks may close again with limited notice if large groups of people congregate there or if there are other safety or physical distancing concerns. If you see any issues of crowding, trash, or other concerns of wildlife areas or boat launches, you can report those issues online.

AVOIDING SCAMS

Consumers should be on alert for increased fraud during the COVID-19 outbreak. Consumers should be vigilant about protecting their finances and should not share financial or other sensitive information with anyone who contacts you unsolicited.

Here are some tips to help you keep the scammers at bay:

- Your bank or credit union should not ask for your financial account details via email. If you receive an email, contact your bank or credit union with the contact information listed on their website.
- Don't click on links from sources you don't know. They could download viruses onto your computer or device.

- Watch for emails claiming to be from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) or experts saying that have information about the virus. For the most up-to-date information about the Coronavirus, visit the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the World Health Organization (WHO).
- Ignore online offers for vaccinations. There currently are no vaccines, pills, potions, lotions, lozenges or other prescription or over-the-counter products available to treat or cure Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) — online or in stores.
- Do your homework when it comes to donations, whether through charities or crowdfunding sites. Don't let anyone rush you into donating. If someone wants donations in cash, by gift card, or by wiring money, don't do it.
