

Think about it.

Here's a bright idea. Add a passenger to your car instead of driving alone.

Passengers stimulate conversation, leading to a better understanding of each other, and eventually we might achieve world peace.

Now that's something to talk about.