Audit Findings

Audit Narrative

The auditor’s description of the audit methodology should include a detailed description of the following processes during the pre-onsite audit, onsite audit, and post-audit phases: documents and files reviewed, discussions and types of interviews conducted, number of days spent on-site, observations made during the site-review, and a detailed description of any follow-up work conducted during the post-audit phase. The narrative should describe the techniques the auditor used to sample documentation and select interviewees, and the auditor’s process for the site review.

On February 28, 2018 the audit began of the Maleng Regional Justice Center (MRJC) located in Kent, Washington. The inmate count for the first day was 785 inmates Prior to the auditor’s arrival on site the PREA questionnaire was completed by MRJC and submitted to the auditor for review. Included in the questionnaire were documents and policies for the audit to review. Seven weeks prior to the arrival of the auditor an announcement of the audit was posted for staff and inmates to see. This posting included a mailing address for the auditor. This is the second audit of the facility and the auditor was also able to review the audit performed 3 years ago by a different DOJ certified auditor. While on site the auditor took a tour of the entire facility going into each housing area, program area, medical, and kitchen and booking area. The auditor had unlimited access to all areas. The auditor spent 3 days on site of MRJC spending the hours dictated in the PREA auditor’s handbook for a jail this size. The auditor performed random interviews with correctional officers who have contact with the inmates and interviews with specialized staff. Random inmates were chosen by the auditor ensuring that a sampling of all living areas, race and sex housed at the detention center were interviewed. Inmates that fell into the specialized categories were also interviewed. Investigation files were reviewed and investigators were interviewed to discuss cases that had occurred since the last PREA Audit. All interviews for staff and inmates were held in locations that provided confidentiality and the opportunity for the inmate or staff to speak freely about the prison and to allow the interviewee to focus on what was being asked. All staff and inmates were cooperative.

Facility Characteristics

The auditor’s description of the audited facility should include details about the facility type, demographics and size of the inmate, resident or detainee population, numbers and type of staff positions, configuration and layout of the facility, numbers of housing units, description of housing units including any special housing units, a description of programs and services, including food service and recreation. The auditor should describe how these details are relevant to PREA implementation and compliance.

The Maleng Regional Justice Center is one single floor structure with 2 large hallways intersecting in the middle with a large control room. Off of each hallway are entrances into the living units. The jail consists of 14 units and they are labeled beginning with the letter “D” and ending with the letter “S”. Each unit houses a maximum of 64 inmates. Most of the cells are single person cells but 6 of the units are two men to a cell. Units N and M have 32 inmates on each side. M unit East and West are for new bookings and the N East is RHU. There is no “O” unit and the “P” unit is where the females are housed. The shower and toilet areas that are in a common area have sufficient covering to allow the detainee to use them without being seen by a member of the opposite sex. There are 196 FTE’s at the jail and 35 FTE’s who are employed by the county Jail Health. The officers work three 8 hour shifts. Volunteer overtime, and if needed, mandatory overtime is used to ensure all posts are covered. This is relevant to PREA because it shows the importance placed on security staff to run a detention center in order to keep a watchful eye on the inmates. Cameras are used throughout the facility to monitor areas and watch over blind spots. These cameras are monitored by the main control room and are saved digitally once they are recorded.

Summary of Audit Findings

The summary should include the number of standards exceeded, number of standards met, and number of standards not met, along with a list of each of the standards in each category. If relevant, provide a summarized description of the corrective action plan, including deficiencies observed, recommendations made, actions taken by the agency, relevant timelines, and methods used by the auditor to reassess compliance.

Auditor Note: No standard should be found to be “Not Applicable” or “NA”. A compliance determination must be made for each standard.

Instructions for Overall Compliance Determination Narrative

This discussion must also include corrective action recommendations where the facility does not meet the standard. These recommendations must be included in the Final Report, accompanied by information on specific corrective actions taken by the facility.

The policy is very clear that there is a zero tolerance to sexual abuse and harassment. The interim PREA coordinator prior to the audit had done her due diligence to prepare documentation and be very familiar with the standards and what was expected. She worked closely with the Majors of the two jails who are the designated compliance managers. This is an excellent use of the PCM position because they fall immediately under the Facility Commander. This shows the inmates and the staff the importance and seriousness of the zero tolerance. Also the newly hired PREA Coordinator was on site.
for the audit to be a part of the audit process as she prepares to take over and manage through the corrective action period. There is an obvious commitment from King County to protect those in their custody from being sexually abused or harassed.

The staff at booking are the first staff to encounter the inmate and all interviewed were aware of the need to perform security but also be respectful of the person's sexual identity. The inmates interviewed confirmed this with questions asked of them and the auditor was able to witness bookings in progress to see how the staff interacted with newly arrested citizens. The detention facility offers all of the information in Spanish and has the ability to provide other languages if needed. Inmates coming in through booking are immediately determined if they have special needs and these are addressed by the officer, by medical staff/mental health staff and by classification. At the very beginning of the process staff ensure that the detainee understand the information they are given. They do not use inmates to interpret. The staff are aware of the language line and the auditor used the language line to interview an inmate who only spoke Spanish.

All investigators with the Special Investigations Unit (SIU) have received training from the Institute of Police Technology and Management in Florida. They work closely with the Seattle Police Department and Kent Police Department if any allegations involve staff at the jail. There are 3 Sergeants in the SIU who handle employment background, mail monitoring, phone recording, criminal investigations and death inside a jail. They deal with all infractions on the inmates. They are involved in the incident review following a sexual assault case after the case has been closed. An inmate on inmate case is started by the shift sergeant. All cases used preponderance of the evidence. The investigator is the person who meets with the inmate and presents them with the closure letter following the closure of the case. The auditor witnessed those letters being used and documented. Videotapes/digital recordings of the cameras are available for 60 days. This has been useful in proving a case was not legitimate and has also brought down the number of allegations where the inmates know cameras are present.

It is a disciplinary infraction for inmates to have any type of sexual act. The allegations are still investigated whenever brought to the attention of the investigator. The inmates past behavior does not determine whether a case will be investigated. The auditor could find no case where the inmate had been charged with filing a false report regarding sexual abuse. During interviews with SIU it is believed that the best course of action is to investigate the allegations and if determined to be unfounded then the inmate would be informed of the outcome but in no way disciplined for filing the report or even inferring that it is a false report. It is believed by the MRJC that this will promote a culture of reporting which is what they are striving for.
