3. Get input from you on how to measure the success of services for Veterans, Seniors, and Vulnerable Populations in King County

Veterans, Seniors & Human Services Levy Information

King County Ordinance 18555 placed a ballot measure for the VSHSL on the November ballot. If approved, the VSHSL would levy a property tax of 10 cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Proceeds would fund capital and services for veterans, seniors, and vulnerable populations.

After this Meeting...

We will conclude this round of community meetings in December 2017. King County staff will reflect on what was heard from communities as the Ordinance 18555-required VSHSL Implementation Plan is developed and proposed. This plan will be transmitted to the King County Council on March 16, 2018.

What did King County do with my feedback?

Since June 2016, levy staff has engaged over a thousand King County residents through community conversations, focus groups, rural convenings, presentations, and online surveys. This feedback informed the VSHSL Blueprint Report and the Executive's VSHSL renewal proposal. Both of these documents were transmitted to the King County Council and informed the development of the VSHSL Ballot Measure Ordinance 18555.

In-person engagements and the online survey identified the lack of affordable housing more frequently than any other human services system gap.

- 43% of renting households in King County pay over 30% of income towards rent.
"The volume of housing that is affordable is not nearly keeping pace with the rising costs of living in King County." – Survey Respondent

Community conversations identified gaps in transportation options, service availability for rural communities, culturally responsive services, and the accessibility of legal consultation.

- "Access to and information about the services is critical and a missing piece of the equation." – Survey Respondent

Older adults expressed concern over their ability to stay socially engaged, access critical services, and reside in their homes as expenses outpace fixed incomes.

- The trend towards divestment in older adult services and programs was a concern throughout the community conversations and online survey.

Veterans acknowledged community support for their services, but expressed frustration at the fragmentation of the service system and barriers to stabilizing federal benefits.

- There are currently over 180 programs serving veterans in King County.
"I think a lot of vets don't realize what all is out there to help them." – Survey Respondent

Across King County, residents cited the ability to provide veterans and human services in a professional and compassionate manner as a crucial component to address social isolation and stigma.

- Respondents encouraged the promotion of service recipient dignity to improve the stigma of accessing services.

Service providers highlighted gaps created by funding requirements, noted an increasing demand for data production without additional resources.

- Providers requested financial flexibility to administer their services, citing the current funding climate specificity. An expectation of data generation without commensurate funding burdens small and volunteer-based providers.

IN THE PAST YEAR, WE ASKED KING COUNTY RESIDENTS:
 'What are the needs in your community?'

THE COMMUNITY RESPONDED...

"My housing situation is unstable."	"My income can't sustain my rising costs."	"I struggle to maintain a healthy life."	"I don't have a meaningful connection to my community."	"Your services are not accessible for my community."

THESE DOCUMENTS OUTLINED...

Draft definitions for eligible expenditures for proposed VSHSL	Draft definitions of eligible populations for proposed VSHSL	Draft priorities for housing investments	Need for increased capacity building support
