Shilshole Avenue NW westbound lane to re-open early

Carril oeste Shilshole Avenue abre la noche del 4 de abril

King County's contractor finished work on the 80-year old sewer pipe in south Ballard about a month ahead of schedule. The work had closed the Shilshole Avenue N.W. westbound lane near N.W. Dock Place since January.

Shilshole Avenue N.W. will be fully open to traffic on the night of Friday, April 4.

The contractor put a new liner in the pipe. The new liner will keep the pipe working to serve north Seattle into the next century.

The sidewalk detour will stay in place until the project is finished later this spring. Pedestrians should continue using Ballard Avenue Northwest to move around the site (see map).

King County appreciates the community's patience during this work.
